Only in Miami, no such restrictions for photographers has been announced. And it's much more common here. Consider the case of a 34-year-old artist David Rohn, an 80-year-old gay man who was arrested for dressing up as a woman in the name of art.

Rohn ended up in jail for two hours after police saw him shooting himself dressed as a woman in a parking lot near the intersection of Biscayne Boulevard and 12th Street.

After putting his camera on a tripod, Rohn took five photos. A female police officer approached and drew her gun. She demanded that Rohn place his hands on the hood of his truck. Within minutes, several more cop cars
